

To whom it may concern,

Monte Elissa from [REDACTED] has requested that I confirm the following discussion we had earlier this year.

I (X) have been attending another Physiotherapy class/group service on a regular weekly basis, with the except of holiday periods, for over a period of 8 years.

To the best of my recollection, an initial assessment was done, then over the period of 8 years, I have had possibly two moderate questionnaires relating to my current physical ability at the time.

From my perspective, the comparison from the experience, is that I have been happy with both the [REDACTED] service and the other service I attend.

(X) – name withheld by request.

Name to be released only if required and only with written permission by myself.
